

In the Claims

This listing of claims will replace all prior listings:

1. (currently amended) A method for reducing alopecia induced in an individual by the administration of cyclophosphamide in an amount of from 100 mg/kg to 150 mg/kg, the method comprising the steps of administering to an the individual in need of treatment a therapeutically effective dose of cyclophosphamide and a selenium compound selected from the group consisting of seleno-L-methionine and 0.75 mg/kg methylselenocysteine orally for 21 days, wherein the first dose of the methylselenocysteine is administered 14 days before the administration of the cyclophosphamide, wherein the alopecia induced by cyclophosphamide is less than the alopecia induced in the absence of the selenium compound.

2. - 14. (canceled)